Article 35 Years Ago Tells of Norris City Radio Station

ROARIN' TWENTIES: "Norris City has a radio station, working to the complete satisfaction of every member of the organization and it should be inspected by Harrisburg people, because it is giving the people of Norris City service unexpected and really wonderful in its results."

Yep, that's what the Harrisburg Daily Register of October 6, 1921, says.

E. B. Webster sent up copies of the Register and the Illinois Miner, also published here at that time, for Oct. 6 and another copy of the Miner for Sept. 21, same year.

I got real interested in that radio story and if you're interested in the item of nearly 35 years ago, we'll continue:

"Dr. Charles Wakeford, well-known Norris City physician and surgeon, who studied the art of radio for two years in Boston, organized the Citizens Radio club of Norris City some time ago and he was elected president.

"It is equipped with the best machinery money would purchase. While it is not sending out wireless messages, it is receiving messages every morning, afternoon and night. The apparatus is on the top of the Wakeford building in Norris City and one of the large rooms on the second floor of that building is used by the company for the members in hearing what is transpiring in all parts of the world.

"They assemble there whenever they feel so disposed. The company has purchased an instrument with which people assembled in the room may hear what is being received. It works similar to a talking machine. In yesterday's ball game at New York, the members of the club could hear the umpire and also could tell who was at bat and what he did. Almost every night band concerts being given by bands far out in the ocean can be distinctly heard. Last Sunday night some noted preacher was to deliver a sermon in Pittsburgh. Members of the Norris City Radio club heard the choir sing and could also hear the preacher in his discourse.

"Edgar Glota, traveling salesman for the Krenning-Schlapp Grocery Co. of St. Louis, who is a member of the club, was in Harrisburg today and he invited the people of Harrisburg to visit the station when in Norris City. It is proving a wonderful success and was installed at a cost of $600. The members pay monthly dues of $1."

And so went progress.

This same issue of The Daily Register reported that the new Junior high school building would be dedicated the following night, which means it was dedicated Oct. 7, 1921.

"If you are a friend of education," the front page news story stated, "let The Register urge you to attend the dedication program at the Junior high school tomorrow night."

"The program that has been arranged is one that will interest and entertain you, and at its conclusion, the people will then have the privilege of inspecting the magnificent building."

"Don't neglect to remain and look the building over, because you must see it in order to realize its value and its completeness."

This 35-year-old stuff is proving of great interest to Timmo and hope you are enjoying it, too. How about taking it up again tomorrow? Okay?

See you tomorrow.

Sen. Aiken Says President Will Veto Gas Bill

Believes President Will Reject Measure Over Contribution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken said today that President Eisenhower would veto the natural gas bill because of the $2,500 campaign contribution which developed during Senate debate on the measure.

The Vermont Republican, an outspoken opponent of the bill, said there was a "50-50 chance" that Mr. Eisenhower would disapprove it in view of the controversy over the campaign gift offered to, but rejected by, Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.).

A federal grand jury continued an inquiry today into the contribution offer, and three Senate committees were interested in various phases of the matter.

Numerous reports circulated in Washington that the President had decided definitely to veto the bill. One such report came from a representative of the gas producing industry itself, which had hoped strongly for presidential approval.

The bill would exempt independent natural gas producers from direct federal price control. The President has until Sunday to act on it or it becomes law without his signature.

A Senate source close to developments said the President was under pressure from influential White House advisers to veto the measure, but the source said he was convinced Mr. Eisenhower still had not made up his mind.

The White House had no comment. The President told his news conference last week that in studying the bill he was trying to balance considerations of promoting free enterprise in the gas industry against protecting the rights of "captive" gas customers.

Fire Truck Skids Into Parked Auto; Small Girl Hurt

A city fire truck skidded into a parked auto while en route to a fire last night and a little girl, an occupant of the car, was taken to Harrisburg hospital for observation.

Officers said it was believed that Bonnie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. "Red" Frazier, was hurt only slightly but examination was to be made this morning. Damage to the fire truck and the Frazier car, parked in front of Rainbow's drug store, was slight. Harvey Hicks, city fireman, started on a run at 8:05 p. m. to the home of Bud Kuppert on Saline street in Gaskins City, where lightning struck gas bottles on the side of the house.

Turning south off Locust at Main, the truck skidded into the Frazier car in which Mr. and Mrs. Frazier were sitting in the front seat and the three Frazier children were sitting in the rear seat.

The child, Bonnie, was taken to the Harrisburg hospital and the other fire truck made the run to the fire, where damage was confined to the gas bottles.

Eldorado Youth Implicates Others In Rifling Autos

James Grant, Eldorado youth held in the county jail following his confession that he and John Bob Herron burglarized the Sweetland cafe at Carmi last week, has signed a statement implicating himself, Herron and Earl Wayne Doolley in the rifling of automobiles in Harrisburg and Eldorado. Sheriff William T. Barrett said today.

Doolley also is held in the Saline county jail. Herron joined the Navy last Thursday. Herron and Doolley are from Eldorado.

Grant's statement said that he and Herron had rifled about 24 cars in Eldorado, stealing flashlights, screw drivers, cigarettes and some Eagle stamps. It said that he, Herron and Doolley had entered four cars parked near the Harrisburg hospital and had taken a flashlight, wrench and some cigarettes.

He said that if a car was locked, they ignored it, entering only those they found unlocked.

Stanelle Heads New Gallatin School Board

Dr. W. F. Stanelle is president of the newly elected Board of Education of Unit School District No. 2. Pat Scates is secretary of the board.

Members of the board, elected Feb. 4, met recently to organize and determine the length of term of office.

Terms of office were determined by drawing lots. Lawrence Rollman and Raymond Vickery drew the one year terms. Dr. Stanelle and Charles L. Oldham, Marshall R. Rigby and Woodrow Brinkley the three year terms, it is reported.

It is stated that even though the board members were not elected until early this month, the law determining terms of office states the term was effective the second Saturday of April "next preceding" and this has been interpreted to mean the terms were effective the second Saturday of April, 1955. This means the members drawing one year terms will have their term of office expire this April and an election will be called for April 14.

As the unit district does not become effective until July 1, it will also be necessary to elect both high school and grade school boards of education to carry on the functions of the two districts until the unit district is effective. However, it is said the law provides for such situations, and defines the duties of the boards during the time when there apparently would be overlapping, duly elected boards of education.

Dutton Death at His Own Hands, Jury Verdict

Four Witnesses Testify at Inquest At Court House

A coroner's inquest jury last night determined that David U. Dutton, shot fatally Sunday afternoon in the Harrisburg police station, came to his death from a gunshot wound at his own hands.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons conducted the inquest at the court house. Four witnesses testified.

City Patrolman William R. "Pat" Atkinson, who was using the telephone at the time Mr. Dutton passed him and walked behind him, said Mr. Dutton had come into the room hundreds of times and he thought nothing of it.

He heard a loud report and turned around to see Mr. Dutton in a crouch. "He took two or three short steps backward and fell," Atkinson said.

By that time, he continued, State Policeman Guthrie Alexander, City Fireman Harvey Hicks and Francis Fry, a volunteer fireman, entered, and Atkinson then called a doctor, an ambulance, and Mr. Dutton's son, Harry, who lives in Harrisburg.

Complained of Ill Health

Atkinson said Mr. Dutton had complained of ill health to him on numerous occasions.

Alexander said he and the others dashed from the fire department into the police station when they heard the shot and saw Mr. Dutton lying down, a pistol at his feet. He said he asked the man what he had done and in a feeble voice Mr. Dutton said "No." A note was found on Atkinson's desk telling them to call his son. It gave the phone number and address.

Alexander said he asked Dutton why he did it and got the reply that he was suffering so much.

Hicks said he had heard him complain of his health in the past and gave the same story as Alexander except to add that he bent down close to Dutton and heard him say "I wish I'd hurry up and die—I'm burning up."

Jesse Gibbons, funeral director, described the wound as a bullet hole two inches below the navel, the bullet coming out at the left hip. In his opinion, he said, death was due to internal hemorrhage.

Shoemaker Wins $64,000 on Television Quiz

NEW YORK (AP)—Michael Della Rocca, a $50 a week shoemaker, tries on a new role for size today — $64,000 in prize money.

Della Rocca, an Italian immigrant who now lives in Baldwin, N. Y., earned 25 years of cobbler pay Tuesday night by rattling thru a long query on "The $64,000 Question." His category was opera.

The 54-year-old Della Rocca won the loot with the help of another shoemaker — opera expert, Gino Prato, who carried off $32,000 on the same program last year. Prato acted as Della Rocca's "expert" on the show, aiding him in building an answer to the big question.

Della Rocca, who runs a small time opera enterprise in his home town, said he would use his winnings to raise the standards of his productions.

"I wanna expand the opera," he said after the show. "We need opera in every corner. I'm very glad that now I get a chance to do this thing."

His question centered around composer Richard Wagner, librettist Arrigo Boito and singer Enrico Caruso.

He was asked to name the four operas of Wagner's "Ring of the Nibelung." The answers were: Das Rheingold, Die Walkure, Siegfried, Die Gotterdammerung.

He was asked the name of a Puccini opera for which Boito had written the libretto, under what name Boito had written it, and the names of the two last operas by Verdi for which Boito had turned out the libretto. The answers were: La Gioconda, Turbida, Otello and Falstaff.

He also was asked to name two teachers who trained Caruso in his young manhood, name the opera which Caruso sang at the Metropolitan on Nov. 16, 1908, give Caruso's role in that production and tell who was making his debut that night. The answers were: Guglielmo Vergine and Vincenzo Lombardi; Aida, Radames and Arturo Toscanini.

Rainfall Permits Pumping of Water Into Standby Reservoirs

Rain fell during the night and all the pumps were running at the standby reservoirs on Middle Fork creek.

Rainfall here measured .54 but at Galatia, in the area of the watershed for Lake Harrisburg and Middle Fork, the fall was .86 inch, Harrison Kibler reported.

The creeks started rising rapidly and at 2 a. m. the 750 gallons per minute and the 3,000 gallons per minute pumps were started in operation, pumping water from Middle Fork into the reservoirs. At 3 a. m. the 14,500 gallons per minute pump was started too.

Lake Harrisburg undoubtedly rose a few inches as a result of the rain.

President Looks Like Second Term Candidate After Doctors' Report

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower ceased being a heart patient along about mid-day Tuesday. As of today he looks like a second term candidate.

He's flying south with Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey to consider his future plans. Mr. Eisenhower will return a week or 10 days hence, and you cannot find many persons in Washington who do not now expect him to announce that he will run again.

All of this hit Washington Tuesday like an unannounced hurricane. The doctors assembled at mid-day to examine the charts of Mr. Eisenhower's Saturday check-up at the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center and to confer with their patient. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty produced his panel of specialists and physicians in ordinary for questioning by newsmen at 3:30 p. m. EST.

Thirty minutes later the news was flashing around the world that there was no medical reason why Mr. Eisenhower should not continue his active life in the White House for another term. Dr. Paul Dudley White emphasized that he and his associates could not decide for the President. The decision must be his.

But, substantially backed up by Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the White House physician, White did not qualify his opinion that Mr. Eisenhower could go again, if ever.

Hagerty made the ground rules — there was to be no politics. The panel was composed of physicians and what they would discuss was, merely, their patient's health. Maybe Dr. White wasn't listening when Hagerty said: "They are here to report on their medical findings—nothing else."

However that may be, White made a statement on his own as to Mr. Eisenhower's future. With the backing of Snyder, he opened

DR. WHITE SAYS HE WOULD VOTE FOR EISENHOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialist, was asked this question Tuesday at the news conference on President Eisenhower's health: "Doctor, this is really a medical question. You told us once before that you would vote for him (Mr. Eisenhower) if he ran again. Would you vote for him now?"

Dr. White: "If he runs."

wide the door to a second term campaign. That is what Republican leaders have been praying for in this presidential year.

A great many of Mr. Eisenhower's associates have been insisting that he would run again. They have had to qualify their confidence, however, with acknowledgment of his physical condition. Most said it was too much to expect a man to kill himself in the line of duty.

Opinion of Friends

A few — and some close friends at that — said they had good reason to know Mr. Eisenhower was not afraid to die or to take on a killing job. He did shrink from the idea of a physical collapse which would commit him to an invalid's chair or bed. And the President, himself, repeatedly has indicated his anxiety about death in office from the standpoint of how it would affect the government and the people of the United States.

Facts of Campaign

Dr. White's judgment, and Snyder's, seems now to make the chance of such misfortune reasonably remote. The President's health, therefore, is now being counted a very much diminished factor in the decision which he intends to make during his vacation on Humphrey's Georgia plantation.

Murphysboro Man Heads Egyptian Soil Conservation Society

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — The Egyptian Soil Conservation Society elected Charles Hufford, Murphysboro, Tuesday night as its president for the coming year.

Hufford, who is a soil conservation service farm planner, succeeds James Giloely, Mounds. Other officers named at the meeting here are L. E. Gard of the Dixon Springs Experimental Station, vice president, and Eldon Starkweather, Murphysboro, who is Jackson county farm adviser, secretary-treasurer.

Going Bold—Hangs Self

HALIFAX, England (AP) — A coroner's inquest ruled Tuesday Brian Crapper, 17, hanged himself from a beam in his home because he thought he was going bald.

Weighing heavily on the opinion of those who believe now that Mr. Eisenhower will accept a second nomination are the facts of the presidential campaign as it has developed so far. Former President Truman, Adlai E. Stevenson, Gov. Averell Harriman, of New York, and others are getting rough. Mr. Eisenhower's administration of the peoples' business at home and abroad is being criticized and condemned, and he, with it.

It is no secret that the President resents some of the things Democratic campaigners are saying about him. Even better known is the fact that the men and women who led the effort to draft him into politics are organized again and putting on the pressure.

The basic fact is that most Republican leaders believe Mr. Eisenhower could not lose this year and that no other Republican would have more than a fair chance to win. If Mr. Eisenhower can be persuaded on that, he scarcely can fail, now, to run again.

Medical Report Sends GOP Hopes Soaring

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's second term go-ahead from his doctors sent Republican hopes soaring today to their highest level since the President's heart attack.

The second term decision was still to be made by Mr. Eisenhower, who has said he will trust his "own feelings" more than his doctors' reports. But the doctors have told him that there is no medical reason to bar him from serving another four years in the White House.

The President has indicated repeatedly that his physical fitness would be the most important factor influencing his decision.

Republican leaders quickly cheered the report as "a green light" and "the best news yet" to encourage their hopes for a second Eisenhower administration.

Disclaiming inside information, House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. told a Hagerstown, Md. audience Tuesday night: "Come March 1, the President will say, 'I accept the nomination.'"

After a series of examinations which started last Saturday, the President's physicians gave him and the public Tuesday their report on Mr. Eisenhower's "good recovery" from his heart attack at Denver last Sept. 24.

Six Doctors in Group

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the famed heart specialist, and Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, White House physician, did the talking for the group of six doctors at Tuesday's news conference.

"We believe that he can serve four or five years or longer in a very active position of great responsibility," Snyder said.

Fully aware of the hazards and uncertainties that lie ahead," White said, "We believe that medically the chances are that the President should be able to carry on an active life satisfactorily."

World Day of Prayer is Marked
Around Globe; Service Here Friday

A day of prayer begun by a small group of U. S. women seventy years ago will be marked by millions of Christians around the globe in services dedicated to world peace and understanding. On Friday, the World Day of Prayer will be observed in more than 20,000 U. S. communities and in more than 134 other countries on almost every continent and island.

This service will be held on Friday, Feb. 17, at 7 p. m. in the Presbyterian church here in Harrisburg. All people who are interested in a world at peace are urged to attend this service and join in prayer for a United Peace.

At services circling the earth for more than twenty-four hours, people of all ages and races will pray in more than a thousand languages and dialects for understanding among the nations of the world. And with their prayers will go offerings of money and material goods to help relieve human need and suffering wherever it exists.

Written By American Indians

Sponsored in the United States by United Church Women, a general department of the National Council of Churches, the program is prepared each year by an author from one of the 134 co-operating countries. This seventeenth year is marked by a service written by American Indian leaders from the Cook Training School in Phoenix, Arizona.

There is a second purpose of the World Day of Prayer beyond the spiritual fellowship. It is the desire to work and to help others that comes as a result of study, prayer, and fellowship. This expresses itself in an offering, poured out on behalf of many needs.

Dairy Prices
Better Than Other
Types, Simerl Says

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — A specialist in agricultural economics says Illinois dairy farmers are getting along better price-wise than some other types of farmers.

Prof. L. H. Simerl of the University of Illinois spoke to 110 farmers attending Southern Illinois University's first dairy workshop Tuesday. The meeting will resume Thursday at Carbondale.

Simerl said average milk prices in January were 87 per cent of parity and butterfat prices were 78 per cent of parity. In contrast, he said hog prices were only 52 per cent of parity, beef cattle were 68 per cent, and corn was 67 per cent.

However, Simerl warned that the comparatively high prices are not likely to last long. He predicted the number of dairy farmers may drop by one-third in the next 10 years.

Westinghouse
Rejects Fact
Finding Board

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. rejected today a proposal by five governors that a two-man fact finding board recommend a settlement of the 122-day strike against the firm, but the company offered a counter-plan.

In telegrams to the governors Westinghouse President Gwilym A. Price declared that his firm's management "cannot delegate to outsiders, the right to determine the fundamental terms of the union agreement under which Westinghouse must live for some years and by which its competitive position is affected."

The governors had asked Westinghouse and the International Union of Electrical Workers to "co-operate" with the fact finding board which would study the dispute and then recommend settlement terms. The IUE accepted the proposal last Sunday.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: American Public Has Right To Be Amazed At Senate Leaders' Unwillingness To Probe Gas Lobbying; Senator Case Unleashed Pandora's Box Of Many Gas Contributions; He Broke Unwritten Rule Of Senate.

WASHINGTON. — The American public, not always versed in the manners and maneuverings of the world's greatest deliberative body, the Senate of the United States, must be amazed and flabbergasted at some of the things that have been happening in the investigation of natural gas lobbying contribution offered to Senator Case of South Dakota.

Here are some of the things the public has a right to be amazed over:

Amazement No. 1 might be expressed over the way the special Senate committee skirted right up to the point of asking John Neff, the Superior Oil lobbyist, whether he had contributed to any other senator, but carefully refrained from doing so. Senators are supposed to want to keep their ranks free from lobbying pressure, but they ducked questions which might embarrass them.

Amazement No. 2 might be expressed over why the special committee was composed as it was: Of two octogenarian Democrats, George of Georgia and Hayden of Arizona, both busy, both up for re-election, and both in need of raising campaign funds for themselves this year; plus one very alert pro-gas Republican, Bridges of New Hampshire; plus one very honest but naive anti-gas Republican, Thye of Minnesota.

Amazement No. 3 might be expressed over why Senator Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic leader, together with Fulbright of Arkansas, author of the gas bill, were almost savage in their attitude toward Case when he first announced receipt of the $2,500 contribution; also why the Senate leaders boxed in Senator Hennings, chairman of a regularly appointed committee, with power to probe these campaign contributions, and refused to let him investigate.

Amazement No. 4 might be expressed over where and why the committee picked Charles W. Steadman, completely unknown in Washington, and why Steadman at first treated Case as if he were a culprit suspected of wrongdoing.

Amazement No. 5 might be expressed over why Vice President Nixon hastily ruled that the regular committee of the Senate, the Election committee, entrusted with the job of probing these matters, was barred from probing the case. SENATE PRESTIGE AT STAKE. What some senators don't seem to realize is that the public is not only amazed, but concerned and worried over the prestige of the Senate. They like to think of their senators as honest men, not subject to undue pressure and outside dollars.

Typical of the reaction of the public is a telegram I received from William Wilcutt of Drakesboro, Kentucky. It reads:

"You are to be congratulated if you will start a drive for public donations in order that Senator Hennings may carry on his investigation. I would like to be the first to contribute $50."

That's how the American public is reacting to the limited probe of the gas lobby.

Meanwhile, here are some of the answers to the points mentioned above which have the public puzzled.

CASE OPENS BOX

Senator Case, a modest Methodist minister's son, serving his first term in the Senate, violated the unwritten rule of the Senate—namely, never to talk about something embarrassing to a fellow senator. By mentioning that $2,500 out loud, Case opened the Pandora's box of political contributions which various other senators or congressmen have been given or promised in one of the most shameful lobbying sprees this writer has seen in Washington.

Many a newspaperman knew about this lobbying money, but few could prove it until modest, quiet-spoken Senator Case opened the Pandora's box.

That was why Johnson, who has received heavy oil-gas contributions for his own campaigns, pleaded, coaxed, and finally threatened Senator Tom Hennings of Missouri when Hennings wanted to broaden the Senate probe.

Hennings is a former district attorney from St. Louis. He is a relentless prosecutor and probator. He has long been working for reform of the present campaign contributions system which puts almost every member of Congress under obligation to those who finance his campaign. Knowing this, neither Johnson nor GOP leaders trusted him. They feared he would probe too deeply.

That was why Johnson maneuvered to force Hennings' resignation from the special Elections committee, which has charge of probing campaign contributions. Various Republicans backed Johnson. Believe it or not, but only two senators on the Rules committee supported Hennings' demand for a broad probe—Gore of Tennessee and Mansfield of Montana, both Democrats.

MYSTERY LAWYERS

Mystery Attorney Charles W. Steadman was picked as special counsel for the committee by Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, a strong defender of the natural gas bill, despite the fact that his state, New Hampshire, needs cheap fuel.

Bridges had known Steadman socially, knew him as a wealthy Cleveland corporation lawyer, born in Nebraska, married into the Fenwick Manufacturing company of Cleveland, who could be depended on first to put Senator Case on the chopping block, second, not to probe into any other senator's campaign funds.

Steadman has not disappointed him. He has reflected the private remarks of Senator Bridges that every contribution received by Case and every vote he ever cast should be investigated.

The special investigating committee was composed of two elderly Democrats and a naive Republican so Bridges could dominate it. He was immediately able to pick the counsel, the chief key to dominating any Senate committee.

NIXON'S CONTRIBUTIONS

Finally, it's interesting to note the role of Vice President Nixon. When the special investigating committee first met, it met in his office—which is unusual. Second, he immediately ruled that the Hennings Election committee had no jurisdiction—also unusual. The vice president gives rulings from the presiding officers' chair, not in private.

However, take a look at the $18,000 personal expense fund raised secretly for Nixon when he was in the Senate and you can understand why he wanted to slam down the lid on the Pandora's box of gas-oil contributors.

For the biggest contributors to his $18,000 personal fund were gas and oilmen. Not only were they the heaviest contributors, but they were greatest in number—a total of 15.

Maps of the 19th century show early geographers printed the words "interminable swamp" across lower Michigan as late as 1839 and thought the upper peninsula was infested with wild animals and Indians and was "unfit for civilization."

Shielding Child May Not Be Good Idea

CHICAGO — (AP) — Shielding a child from sorrow may not always be best for him, according to Dr. Freda S. Kehm, director of the association for Family Living here.

It may be preferable to help the child, with love and affection, to face the realities of a tragedy, she added in an article in National Parent-Teacher Magazine.

When a death occurs, she wrote, having definite information may be more helpful to the child than having anxiety over what happened.

"The death of a loved one is one of the major calamities that children face," she says. "Sooner or later children must learn about death. The fact is there, and no hiding or denying will alter it.

"There is comfort for the youngster in sharing the loss with his family who feel the same sorrow."

Label Khrushchev Speech Attempt to Woo Asian Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials today called Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev's speech to the Communist Congress in Moscow a new effort to woo neutral Asian nations.

Officials also doubted there will be any basic change in American-Soviet relations despite the mild tone of Khrushchev's speech Tuesday.

These experts noted that the Russian Communist Party leader put the blame on the United States and its allies for present strained East-West relations.

Khrushchev claimed Russia has tried to better American-Soviet relations, especially through offering a 20-year friendship pact.

American experts interpreted this statement chiefly as an effort to curry favor with Near and Far Eastern audiences.

Mrs. Roosevelt Supports Adlai's Civil Rights Views

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt today supported Adlai Stevenson's views against using force on civil rights and racial segregation.

Mrs. Roosevelt said Stevenson's recent statement in Los Angeles opposing use of federal troops in the South to enforce desegregation was "entirely correct."

"We are opposed to force and believe that the spirit of man in the South is changing in the right direction, but troops and bayonets will not bring about the change," she said.

Mrs. Roosevelt, chairman of the New York State Stevenson for President Committee, said Stevenson has "never quibbled" as to his stand on civil rights. She said no other candidate has a clearer record, beginning with his help of integration of the Negro into the Navy and continuing through his actions in Illinois.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, had criticized Stevenson for his Los Angeles desegregation statement.

Death Toll from European Cold Wave Climbs to 500

LONDON (AP)—Men and machine fought today to ease the plight of suffering thousands in Europe, locked in the third week of an unprecedented cold wave that has taken 500 lives.

A country-by-country breakdown of the death toll since the first icy front swept down from Siberia Feb. 1 showed: France, 129; Italy, 165; Yugoslavia, 58; Germany, 52; Britain, 39; Denmark, 29; Portugal, 20; Greece, 17; Sweden, 15; Switzerland, 14; Holland, 12; and Austria, 10.

The toll is expected to go even higher when hundreds of communities, cut off by snow for days, restore communications.

Three U. S. Air Officers, Canadian Fighter Ace Killed

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Three U. S. Air Force officers and a Canadian fighter ace were killed Tuesday when a single-engine Canadian bush plane in which they were riding crashed near Toronto.

The Canadian was identified as William Federber, 35, a veteran of the Battle of Britain and Spitfire fighter ace who won the distinguished Flying Cross in operations against the Luftwaffe.

The Americans were not immediately identified pending notification of next of kin.

A spokesman for the De Havilland Company, which is building similar Otter transports for the U. S. Air Force, said it was believed a wing worked loose as the plane flew at 5,000 feet on a demonstration flight Tuesday. The wing broke away from the plane, hit the tail and the plane crashed in flames in a field.

Guard Against A-Power Subsidies, Coal Ass'n Urges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Coal Assn. urged Congress today to prevent "abuse" of the government's authority to subsidize development of atomic power.

Tom Pickett, executive vice president of the association, emphasized in testimony before the Joint Atomic Energy Committee that the association has no objection to the government's proposed construction of experimental nuclear power reactors.

But he cautioned against any "duplication" of facilities lest the program should be "converted into a distortion of our free enterprise system" in which atomic reactors would be competing commercially with coal-fired power plants.

Pickett also recommended that required government subsidies for the program be spotlighted to give the public a true picture of its magnitude so it can judge for itself "if there is any need for extensive programs for the construction of publicly subsidized or publicly owned nuclear power plants."

Noting the present high costs of atomic power, Pickett said the bituminous coal industry believes that coal-fired plants will be "the most economic source of steam-generated electric power in the foreseeable future."

Barring a "distortion" of the free enterprise system, he said, "we do not fear inroads upon our market by nuclear power. We believe that for many years to come the atomic energy program will consume far more coal than is displaced by nuclear power."

$350,000 Fire At Edwardsville

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Fire today destroyed a two-story building here, causing damage estimated at $350,000.

The building was occupied by a department store, a paint shop and the offices of an optometrist.

Firemen were unable to determine the cause of the blaze immediately but residents of an apartment house across the street reported an explosion and said they were awakened by shattering glass.

Sailor's Wife Accused of Killing Mother-in-Law

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — A sailor's wife was accused today of shooting and strangling her mother-in-law after an argument about money.

Mrs. Maxine Jarolimek, 33, was arrested at her home at Island Lake early today and charged with the murder of her husband's mother, Mrs. Irene Jarolimek, 55.

The elder woman's body was found on the porch of her home at Antioch Tuesday by her husband, Jerry, when he came home from work. She had been shot in the cheek and strangled by a scarf.

Sheriff Stanley M. Christian of Lake county said that after questioning, Maxine Jarolimek admitted the slaying. She said they got into an argument and the gun went off by accident when she picked it up to scare her mother-in-law.

"We don't know definitely why she did it but we think it was an argument over money," Christian said.

A written statement was prepared but Christian said Maxine Jarolimek did not sign it. She was held in Lake county jail here.

The accused woman's husband, Jerome Jarolimek Jr., 33, is a sailor in the Great Lakes Naval hospital.

The elder Mrs. Jarolimek was shot with her husband's .22 caliber rifle, found lying on the kitchen floor. Christian said the shooting apparently took place in the dining room, where a trail of blood was found leading to a bathroom.

Three Children Killed in Fire

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — Three young children were killed in a fire that swept through an apartment building Tuesday.

The children, Patricia Booker, 2, her brother, Nelson Jr., 5, and their cousin, Debra Booker, 3, were trapped in a second floor apartment and perished before firemen could reach them.

Mrs. Willie Booker, mother of Patricia and Nelson, said she awoke in the bedroom of her second floor apartment to find smoke and flames pouring through the door. She said she escaped by breaking a window and leaping to the roof of an adjoining one-story building.

Mrs. Booker was hospitalized with serious injuries.

Probers Charge Britain Ships Vital Materials to Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators charged today that Britain has shipped highly strategic copper, produced with U. S. foreign aid funds, to Russia.

Jerome S. Adelman, assistant counsel of the Senate investigating subcommittee, testified that Russia desperately needs copper and would be "tremendously short" of it if war came.

Adelman was the first witness as the subcommittee launched public hearings on the flow of strategic materials to Iran, Britain and Russia.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) accused the administration of refusing to cooperate in the inquiry.

NOW BOTH ARE Detergent GASOLINES

Ashland FLYING OCTANES

Ashland FLYING OCTANES

PREMIUM USERS

Detergent Ashland Ethyl is tops for all late model cars. Reason: today's high compression engines demand an Ethyl gasoline. Ashland Ethyl is not only detergent, it's compounded with ICA* POWER TONIC to stop spark plug fouling, pre-ignition and knock. Yes, Ashland Ethyl is detergent... plus!

REGULAR USERS

If your car can use regular, buy only Ashland Flying Octanes—it is the regular that's different, it's detergent! It restores pep, power and performance, tankful after tankful.

BOTH drive out engine dirt!

ASHLAND DETERGENT FLYING OCTANES

Proved power gain measured on the Dynamometer, the nationally accepted scientific measurement for engine power. Thanks to detergent Flying Octanes, harmful engine dirt is driven out while you drive. Result: increased power, smoother performance, a better engine.

NON-DETERGENT REGULAR

Here's proved power loss measured on the same Dynamometer when harmful engine dirt from non-detergent gasoline builds up as you drive, robs you of engine power mile by mile. This actual power loss was measured with the engine developing maximum power, operating at a constant speed.

Lakers, Knicks Win Pro Tilts

By United Press

The Minneapolis Lakers moved a half-game ahead of St. Louis today in the close battle for the last playoff berth in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn. as a result of a 110-97 victory over Rochester.

The New York Knickerbockers handed St. Louis a 103-99 defeat in the only other league action Tuesday night. Both games were on a twin bill in St. Louis.

Five Lakers scored in double figures, led by big Clyde Lovellette with 22 points, as Minneapolis moved ahead in the first quarter and led comfortably the rest of the way. Player-coach Bob Wanzer led the Royals with 19 points.

The Knicks blew 15 points of a 16-point lead before turning back St. Louis. Harry Gallatin led the Knicks with 19 points but league scoring leader Bob Pettit had 30 for the Hawks.

Storms Caused By Clash of Cold Front, Gulf Air

By United Press

Winter cold recaptured much of the nation today and tornadoes played on the edge of the icy front. The cold wave pushing out of the northern Plains kept temperature in a sub-zero deep freeze throughout the Dakotas and Montana. Weather forecasters said the cold should spread from the Appalachians to the Texas Panhandle and the northwest by today.

The clash between the cold front and a mass of warm, moist Gulf air touched off heavy rains in the south and tornadoes hit communities in Texas and Arkansas.

A flash flood at Hot Springs, Ark., closed businesses and stores along a six-block stretch of Central Avenue. Some storefronts were crushed by 3 feet of water when more than 5½ inches of rain fell in a two-hour period.

The Texas Tornado Skipper skipped through the heavily industrialized Nederland-Port Neches area late Tuesday, lifting an occupied house off its foundation, turning it counter-clockwise, and setting it down again. There were no injuries.

Another tornado hit near Sugar Loaf, Ark., early today. A house and two barns were damaged but there were no injuries.

Meanwhile, snows stretched from Montana into Colorado and the western Plains, snarling traffic in some cities. The temperature went to 22 below zero at Cut Bank, Ark., almost 50 degrees under the 71 across the nation at Miami, Fla.

Also in the west, two strong earthquakes and seven smaller ones rocked a wide area of southern California. The steady rolling motion set off fire alarms in San Diego, but caused no damage.

Stranger weather in the near future was predicted by a University of Colorado astronomer, Dr. Walter Orr Roberts.

He said huge, hellishly hot storms now churning up the sun's surface will cause "ghosts" on television screens and foul-up radio and wire communications late this week. There will also be new storms in the Rocky Mountains within two weeks, Roberts predicted.

Medical Report Sends GOP Hopes Soaring

torily for another five to 10 years... but the second term choice is his, not ours."

Mr. Eisenhower has said that he expects to be ready to announce his decision by the end of this month. He can ponder it during his holiday, starting today, on the Thomasville, Ga., estate of Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey.

Snyder told the news conference in a formal statement that there were no physical abnormalities in the President's heart except the expected scar in the muscle and that there were no symptoms indicating the muscle was weak.

Very Good Health

Snyder emphasized that it was impossible to say that anyone would not suffer "another cardiac accident" but that Mr. Eisenhower is "in very good health."

Republicans in Congress reacted to the medical report as if they had been told they would have no opposition in their next campaigns. And stock prices on both the San Francisco and Los Angeles exchanges jumped sharply.

The medical report was made too late in the day to affect the New York exchange.

"I think the report gives a green light beyond any doubt for him to run again," Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) said. "I have felt for some time that he wanted to run again but wouldn't unless he believed he could go through it."

"This is the best news the people have had since the President was stricken," Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kans.) said.

Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he still did not believe Mr. Eisenhower would run again. H. said there is "a lot of difference" between service in the White House and conducting a national campaign for the office.

Chevrolet Claims Top '55 Sales

DETROIT (AP)—Chevrolet Division of General Motors claimed it sold more cars than any of its competitors during 1955 for the 20th consecutive year.

T. H. Keating, general manager of Chevrolet, said registration figures released by R. L. Polk & Son Tuesday showed Chevrolet sold 1,940,681 passenger cars and 329,791 trucks last year.

The figures compiled by a independent statistical agency gave Chevrolet a margin of 67,405 cars and 33,891 trucks over Ford Motor Co., its nearest competitor.

Shawneetown Racks Up 25th Win; Cave-in-Rock Beats Ridgway, 77-61

In the only Greater Egyptian conference game played Tuesday night Cave-in-Rock was the winner over Ridgway 77-61. The game was played at Ridgway.

The victory boosted Cave-in-Rock into a tie with Equality for sixth place in the loop standings, each with four wins and nine defeats.

Two other GEC teams engaged in non-league competition and in each case the conference representative was the victor.

Shawneetown travelled to Enfield and picked up its 25th win of the season, 89-51, and Pope Co. beat invading Metropolis 62-59.

During the first half Ridgway stayed fairly close to the Rockers, trailing only 25-32 after two quarters of play. In the third frame, with Danny Smith pouring in 18 points, Cave-in-Rock pulled away by scoring 26 markers and holding Ridgway to 17. As the final frame started Cave-in-Rock was on top 58-42. The two clubs traded points the last period, each scoring 19 with Cave-in-Rock the winner 77-61.

Ridgway's John Mills and Smith of Cave-in-Rock tied for scoring honors, each counting 29 points. They even tied in the manner of scoring, each hitting 11 field goals and 7 free tosses.

Pope Co. and Metropolis engaged in a close one with the home team the winner, 62-59. The winners led at the quarter 19-17 and 33-31 at half time. After three quarters Pope Co. led by just a point, 48-47, but held on for a three-point victory.

Walker was high for the winners with 15 points, but received fine support from King with 14, Palmer with 13 and Green's 12.

Taylor of Metropolis was the game's high scorer with 21.

Shawneetown made it 25 victories without a defeat by taking Enfield 89-51.

The winners led from the start, with four of the first five hitting in double figures. Drone paced the scoring with 23, but Gunzel, Ellis and Nolen were not far back.

Shawneetown is only a game away from an unbeaten regular season. Final game on the regular schedule is set for Friday night when Galatia will call at the Shawneetown gym.

A highlight of this final game at home will be the coronation of the Basketball Queen.

Wood River Upsets East St. Louis, 77-49

Pinckneyville Easily Defeats Anna-Jonesboro, 77-48

By United Press

Wood River, always respected but not so often a winner in the tough Southwest Conference, ripped the East St. Louis Flyers apart 77-49 in one of the form reversals of Tuesday night Illinois High School basketball.

Ottawa pulled another upset, dumping Peru St. Bede 66-60 only a day after the Bedans were elevated to the top 15 of downstate teams. St. Bede, which has lost only three, had previously whipped Ottawa at St. Bede but couldn't handle the chore on the Ottawa floor.

Pinckneyville, the state's second ranked team, waltzed to victory over Anna-Jonesboro, 77-48. Shawneetown, ranked No. 13, got victory No. 25 without defeat by humbling Enfield 89-51.

Venice Lincoln found a way to beat East St. Louis Lincoln as the two clubs stalled to a 26-11 score. Douglass Mounds took the other road to victory and beat Cairo Sumner 106-52.

O'Fallon, current kingpin of the Cahokia Conference over such small school powers as Duplo and Freeburg, whipped New Baden 82-56. Highland, another small spoiler in the southwest area, jarred Bethalto 80-75.

Lincoln, rated the 11th best in the state, won a scoring duel with Springfield. Feitshans 80-72 as Dave Cadwallader got 25 points. Two well-regarded Peoria quintets won, Spalding whipping Bloomington Trinity 92-81 and Limestone defeating East Peoria 95-79.

In eastern Illinois play, Cumberland, beaten only twice this year, was too much for Casey by a 78-48 count. Charleston edged Chrisman 58-55. Mount Carmel upset Robinson 66-49.

Washington's Panthers girded for tournament play against the rugged foes of the Peoria area by blasting Eureka 77-57. In a battle of small school powers of the northeast, Bradwood bested Odell St. Paul 57-52.

Expect Perfect Season for St. Francis, Dons

By United Press

It's now virtually certain that San Francisco and St. Francis, the only unbeaten major-league basketball teams in the nation, will finish the season with perfect records.

The two pop-shot powers from opposite ends of the country racked up easy victories in feature games Tuesday night, national champion San Francisco extending its season mark to 19-0 with its 45th straight triumph and St. Francis pushing its record to 17-0. San Francisco, ranked No. 1 in the nation by the United Press Board of Coaches, wasted little Valentine's Day affection on San Jose St. and romped to a 76-52 decision. The Dons now have six regular season games left but figure to breeze easily past 'em all and into the NCAA tournament for a title defense.

St. Francis, already included in the National Invitation Tournament field, cleared its biggest remaining obstacle to a perfect season by drubbing Manhattan, 98-75. The Brooklyn Terriers have only four games left with a game this Saturday against St. Joseph's, Pa., appearing the most dangerous of a weak quartet.

North Carolina State, the nation's No. 4 team, scored another important victory Tuesday night, 90-81, over arch-rival Duke. The Wolfpack thus moved into a triple tie with North Carolina and Wake Forest for first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, dropping Duke into fourth. The tie will be broken tonight when Wake Forest meets North Carolina.

In other leading games: Providence upset Notre Dame, 85-83, on mid-court set-shot by Gordon Holmes with two seconds left in overtime; Maryland downed Clemson, 81-69; NIT-bound Marquette downed Creighton, 73-65; Rhode Island trounced Brown, 83-65; Wake Forest upset St. John's N. Y. 92-90; South Carolina beat Furman 109-97; despite 40 points by Darrell Floyd who made his career total 2,010; George Washington whipped William & Mary, 81-69; and Rice downed Baylor, 68-58.

Thompsonville Defeats Valier

Thompsonville travelled to Valier Tuesday night and won a Little Egyptian conference game 75-47, leading at the quarter 11-9, at halftime 27-19 and after three quarters 49-33.

Thompsonville, now with a record of 18-5 for the season, travels to Buford Friday night for the schedule's final game before tournament play.

Thompsonville also won the preliminary game, 54-21.

Scoring in varsity game—Thompsonville: Doss 32, Hodgson 13, Marsh 13, Gregory 11 and Absher 6; Valier: Farmer 17, Vercellino 10, Hardell 7, O'Brien 5, Wingo 6, Haywood 1 and Burnam 1.

Just a Corpse at Twilight

By Robert Martin

THE STORY: Alice Osborn has been killed, either accidentally or murdered, just after she signed a blank granting permission for an autopsy on her late husband, Frank, who died six months before. James Bennett, who wanted to determine if she had a claim against the industrial commission for Frank's death, has been shot at, probably on purpose. Lucy Dorn, a young woman he met prior to finding the body of Mrs. Osborn, wants to see the autopsy performed.

At the hotel in Steel City I had two martinis and the luncheon special consisting of tuna salad, cold slices of tongue with mild mustard sauce, hot rolls and coffee. It was well after 2 o'clock when I left the dining room. From a phone booth in the lobby I placed a call to my partner, Al Purdy, at his home in a suburb of the state capital. Al was a veteran Commission investigator who had been originally assigned to show me the ropes. I reported on my mission in Beech Tree.

"Check O'Connor, will you?" I said. "Let me know what he wants me to do. The autopsy is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday. If O'Connor thinks we should drop it, I don't want Van Horn chasing up here for nothing."

I went up to my room, took off my coat and necktie, and lay on the bed. A soft June breeze blew in the window and the Saturday afternoon traffic sounds in the street five floors below came faintly up to me. I closed my eyes and dozed a little. The jangle of the phone aroused me. I got off the bed and answered it.

"Mr. Bennett?" The soft voice was familiar.

"Hello, Lucy."

"You recognized my voice?"

"Sure, but maybe I should have addressed you as Miss Dorn."

She hesitated for only an instant. "Could I come up to your room, then? It'll only take a few minutes."

"Come on up, by all means. Room 518."

I put my necktie back on and ran a comb through my hair. I was attempting to brush gray cat hairs from the cuffs of my blue jeans trousers when the soft knock came on my door.

I opened the door and she stood there smiling, half shyly. "I—I'm sorry to bother you," she said.

Her smile was uncertain, but it showed small white teeth behind the curve of her lips, and her blue eyes beneath the sand-colored brows were bright and very clear.

I motioned to a chair by the window. "Sit down, won't you?"

She moved to the chair, deftly gathered the skirt beneath her legs, sat down, crossed her slim ankles and looked at me brightly. "Do—do you know yet when the autopsy will be?"

I shook my head. "There may not be one—since Mrs. Osborn was killed. I'm waiting for a call now."

I sat on the edge of the bed and offered her a cigaret. She accepted. As I struck a match for her, she said, "Really, now—why do you want to watch it?"

She inhaled smoke and gazed at the ceiling. "Oh, I'm just—interested."

"I see."

"I was sorry to hear about Alice," she said. "I liked her. The whole town is shocked."

"Yes. I was faintly annoyed. 'Is that all you wanted of me?'"

She drew nervously on the cigaret. "Sheriff Cornwallis told me that you found her."

"That's right."

She leaned forward, her lips parted. "Was there a lot of blood?"

"No. Disappointed?"

A dull flush touched her cheeks. "Really, I'm not just—morbid, but—"

"Interested," I finished for her. "You said that." I paused, thinking that if she wanted the details, I'd give them to her. "Mrs. Osborn was shot with a small-caliber bullet. It entered her chest, near the heart. She died almost instantly. She was wearing a print house dress, no stockings. The bullet came through the kitchen window screen and struck her as she was standing by the sink. When I found her, she was lying on her back on the floor. Only a little blood had seeped from the wound. Her eyes were half open and she seemed to be smiling a little. I called the sheriff. He came with Dr. Richard Jarrett, who is the coroner. . . . By the way, has Dr. Jarrett issued a statement yet?"

The phone rang.

"Wait a minute," I told her, and picked up the phone. "Yes?"

It was Austin O'Connor. "James?" he asked in his high precise voice. It had been only recently that he had lowered the official bars to the extent of addressing me by my first name. For six months it had been a frosty "Mr. Bennett," because I'd been an outsider foisted upon him by the Commission and he hadn't quite trusted me. So now I was pleased with the "James," realizing that it was not in his stuffy bureaucratic nature to unbend sufficiently to use the more familiar "Jim."

"Yes, Mr. O'Connor," I said. His voice held an executive crispness. "James, Al Purdy informs me that you're having a little difficulty with that Osborn case?"

"A little. It's just a question of whether or not you want me to proceed with the autopsy, now that the beneficiary, Mrs. Osborn, is dead."

"You have the release signed by Mrs. Osborn?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then proceed, by all means. I will instruct Dr. Van Horn to meet you on Tuesday as scheduled."

Pearson Drops $5,100,000 Suit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Columnist Drew Pearson has dropped a $5,100,000 suit against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) and seven other persons on the basis of a mutual agreement.

A request to dismiss the five-year old damage suit was filed Tuesday in Federal District Court. Attorneys for both sides declined to disclose the terms of the settlement.

Pearson charged that McCarthy assaulted him in a "painful and paralyzing manner" in a fight at the swank Sulgrave Club here. Pearson also charged the defendants with plotting to drive him out of business.

Defendants in the case were columnist Westbrook Pegler; radio commentator Fulton Lewis Jr.; Don Surine, McCarthy's former administrative assistant; Edward K. Nellor, a Lewis' assistant; writers Morris A. Bealle and J. B. Matthews, and George Waters, a former Washington newsman.

Sen. Carlson Breaks With Administration On Farm Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank Carlson, usually one of President Eisenhower's staunchest supporters in Congress, broke with the administration today on the farm issue.

The Kansas Republican told the United Press that he favors price supports at 90 per cent of parity for wheat this year and a two-price system for the crop starting next year.

Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson oppose both proposals.

Carlson voted for the administration-sponsored flexible price supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity when they squeaked through the Senate by a 49-44 vote in 1954. But he said that there must be "90 per cent supports to the wheat farmers any good this year."

3 Legislators Deny Knowledge Of Lobby Fund

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Three state legislators who sponsored a chiropractic bill told a grand jury Tuesday they had no knowledge a huge lobbying fund had been collected to pass the bill.

State Reps. Paul Powell (D-Vermont), James D. Carrigan (D-Peoria) and Lloyd (Curly) Harris (D-Granite City) testified before a Peoria county grand jury investigating the practices of unlicensed chiropractors and their lobbyists in Illinois.

Asst. State's Atty. Wm. Young, who directed the inquiry for State's Atty. James P. Kellstedt, said four grand jury sessions would be held on the matter.

Young said "probable aspects" of the continued investigation would be the insurance services sold to members by unlicensed chiropractic organizations to protect the members from prosecution, and the gathering of funds from unlicensed chiropractors.

Powell said he sponsored the bill because it gave the chiropractors a "licensing board of their own."

AFL-CIO to Decide Political Support This Summer

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—The 16-million-member AFL-CIO will not decide until late in the summer whom it will support in the 1956 presidential race.

President George Meany closed the first conference of the union's Executive Council Tuesday with a warning to both political parties: "If we don't agree in principle with either the Republican or the Democratic candidate, we might not endorse anyone."

But Meany added that the union "won't run away from the question" of politics.

He said the Executive Council will meet again in Washington June 4 and 5 to decide whether to call a full union convention to discuss endorsement of political candidates. He said the council will probably schedule the convention for Atlantic City after the two party conventions.

Meany said the labor leaders will be especially interested in candidates' views on segregation.

and took them away from regulation by the Medical Practices Board of medical men. Carrigan and Harris said they went on the bill as sponsors for the same reason.

SIU Museum Receives Grant

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois university has been awarded a $2,500 research grant-in-aid from the Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research, New York, according to an SIU Museum announcement today.

The award is to aid archaeological excavation in Durango, Mexico, under the direction of Dr. J. Charles Kelley, SIU Museum director now on sabbatical leave for research at the New Mexico Laboratory of Anthropology, Santa Fe. Kelley says the grant will materially assist the SIU Museum's 1956 summer Anthropological Field Session in Durango. Participating students will spend nearly two months (June 18 through August 19) at Durango excavating ruins of buildings and pyramids in the nearby hills. The 1954 SIU archaeological expedition started excavations at the site.

Up to 20 students may enroll in the field session and obtain college credit in anthropology. In addition to having supervised field experience in archaeology, students will attend lectures and go on field trips.

Information and application blanks for enrollment and assistantships may be obtained by contacting Dr. Carroll L. Riley at the SIU Museum. Riley and Howard Winters, members of the Museum staff, will assist Kelley in directing the summer field session.

$32,000 Changed Gino's Life--But Not The Man--He's Still the Happy Shoemaker

COBBLER IN A $100 SUIT, Gino Prato (center) lends a hand with the work in New York shoe repair shop. The $32,000 quiz program winner was there in new role as heel-maker's envoy.

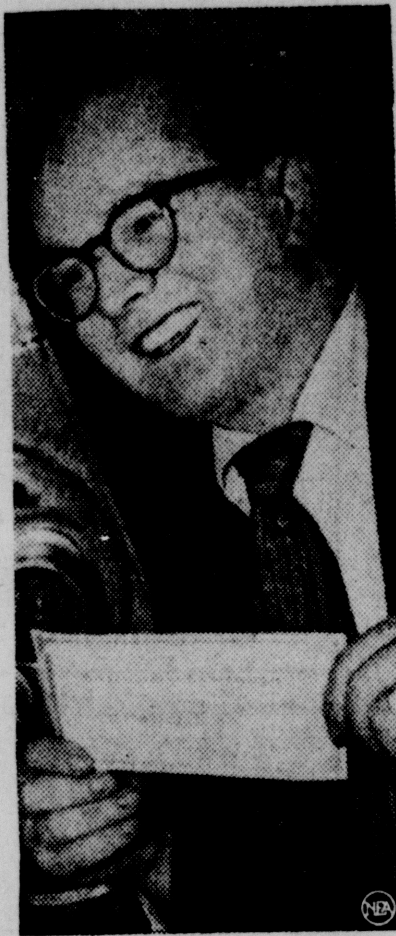

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA) — Five months and $32,000 later, Gino Prato is still a happy man, still "walking through a dream," still a shoemaker at heart.

There've been changes in Prato's life—big changes—but there have been no changes in Prato. He's a cobbler in a $100 suit. He dines with mayors and governors, but still has no sink in his bathroom. He can't budge out of the house without being besieged by auto-graph hounds, but he lives in a fourth-floor walk-up flat. He gets $10,000 a year and has an unlisted telephone, but he thinks of himself as a shoemaker always.

The $32,000 he won on "The $64,000 Question" is gone. "Most of it just goes," he says. "I don't know where. Thank God, I get it all set to pay the tax first. The rest of it—well, you know. There are so many worthy charities."

And so it went—$100 here, $25 there, $5 to somebody else. "Some of it I have records of," Gino shrugs. "Some of it—well, you know. They need the money, what can you do?" Nothing went on the Prato family. They still live in the fourth floor walk-up—"My mother-in-law live upstairs," and she's 77. If she can walk up four flights, I can walk up three—and he has to shave in the kitchen sink. He thought about buying a car, "but what's the use—I can't drive."

After a while he did get an unlisted phone, mainly because his new employers—the American Biltmore Rubber Co.—never could reach him. His line was always busy.

START OF NEW LIFE for Prato was $32,000 check he won on quiz show five months ago. Last night Prato helped another shoemaker, Della Rocca, win $64,000 on the same TV show.

The suits and fancy pocket handkerchiefs he sports were gifts from the company. Not another penny went on personal things. Nowadays he's employed as a "good will ambassador" by the company, which makes rubber heels and soles, among other things. He goes around with the firm's divisional managers, meeting shoemakers, "building the morale."

"I love my work," he says. "I'll go back to it some day. What I'd like is a bigger store, but in same section. I like that section." He's hired a man to work the store now, but he goes in once in a while to keep in practice. "My hand is soft," he says. "I was in working the other day and I got callous. See?"

Thinking It Over For Lent

By Robt. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

Giving up candy or some other little pleasure during Lent seems rather trivial this year. Christendom has faced some pretty humbling experiences since last Easter. Man is not quite as supreme, nor as self-satisfied, nor as self-sufficient as he has credited himself with being.

Today man can truly accept the symbol of ashes as a sign of penitence for his sins of omission if not for his sins of commission. Man is not responsible for the tragedies accompanying the floods in New England and in California. Man is not to blame for the hurricanes, nor the winds and waves that took their toll in life and property. Some people can and should be blamed for death stalking the highways, airways, railways and seaways.

Yet all of us feel humble because with all our scientific developments and human advances we could not and did not stop these tragedies which cost so many lives. Somehow this year we cannot quite satisfy the conscience by merely "giving up" some trifle or by pleading "not guilty" in the court of human and spiritual justice.

We must turn to God for His guidance and for His way of life as we prepare for Easter and beyond.

Symington May Be Compromise Demo Candidate

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Stuart Symington is a handsome, 55-year-old Missourian of whom the whole world may become abruptly aware some hot night next August.

Symington is the junior U. S. senator from Missouri, serving a first term to which he was elected in 1952. It is quite possible — if not yet probable — that the Democratic Party will nominate Symington for president this year.

He would be a compromise candidate, considerably short of a 100 per cent left winger, but not a conservative, either, by a large margin. There is more than a whisper of speculation in Washington that Symington would stand to gain the most if the three more publicized Democrats were rejected.

The three are: Adlai E. Stevenson, Illinois; Sen. Estes Kefauver, Tennessee, and Gov. Averell Harriman, New York. Former President Harry S. Truman nominated Stevenson almost single-handed in 1952. There is some basis for doubt now that Mr. Truman is in Stevenson's corner.

Accused Of Straying
Harriman looks more like Mr. Truman's man. Stevenson is being accused of straying to the middle of the road. The left wing of the Democratic Party seems to be a bit suspicious of him. Harriman and Kefauver are 100 per centers, loyal to Mr. Truman's Fair Deal and therefore without much support from middle roaders and with none among party conservatives.

On the basis of their records, Mr. Truman could go easily for either of them, except that Kefauver offended in 1952 by meeting and beating the then president in New Hampshire's presidential primary. Mr. Truman is not likely to forget that.

Neither would he be likely to forget that Symington served him well and that they are fellow Missourians, although Symington is a carpet bagger of sorts, having been born in Massachusetts and schooled in the East.

Symington was FDR's wartime assistant secretary of war for air. He was first secretary of the independent Air Force under Mr. Truman. Later he was chairman of the National Security Resources Board. When the Reconstruction Finance Corp. was in trouble, Mr. Truman named Symington administrator to untrouble it.

Native of India to Speak at Equality Methodist Church

Mrs. P. P. Phillips, an accredited evangelist from Traenore, South India, will speak at Equality Methodist church Sunday, Feb. 19, at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Phillips and her husband are studying in America, she at Asbury Seminary, while he is at Garrett Seminary. They are Methodist evangelists who have a real passion to win others to Christ. En route to this country they stopped in England for two months, preaching in churches and addressing conventions.

They are in America of their own individual responsibility and without the support of any missionary society. However, they are widely known and respected in many parts of India where they have held revivals and camp meetings. Realizing the great need for the Christian message in India, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will return to their native land, where they will help establish Christian centers and universities, where education and real Christian experience may be put together.

The public is especially invited to attend this service and hear Mrs. Phillips tell of her native India and the road ahead.

Mrs. George Bond led in prayer. A Valentine gift exchange was held. Mary Margaret Small received the door prize. Games were dispensed with in favor of cancer bandage making.

The club members will entertain their families at a dinner party Feb. 24 beginning at 7 p. m.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Dean Guye and Mrs. Clifton Winders, served ice cream, cookies, candy and coffee at the social hour.

The March meeting will be with Mrs. John C. Small and Mary Margaret Small. Each member is to wear an "Easter bonnet" of her own creation. Cancer bandages will be made again.

The Union Chapel church congregation helped their pastor, Rev. Vola Sittig, celebrate his birthday Sunday by serving a dinner in the basement of the church following morning worship services. Mrs. Charles Johnson, a member of the congregation, also had a birthday Sunday which was noted by a handkerchief shower. The pastor also received many nice gifts.

TV Called Villain

In Domestic Spats

Basketball is watched by more fans than any other sport, even baseball, in the United States.

Pumpkin and squash are of Western Hemisphere origin, unknown in Europe prior to 1570.

The diplomatic term "de jure" means that full diplomatic recognition has been given to a state.

CHICAGO — Television has replaced the family budget as the No. 1 cause of domestic squabbles, according to Mrs. Lillian Sloan, head of Traveler Radio's home institute. She based this conclusion on interviews with lawyers, marriage counselors and set owners.

A classic of its kind was the case of a husband who had to get up at 6:30 a. m. to go to work. His wife was addicted to night owl movies and kept TV on until 1 or 2 a. m. They had a one-room apartment and the husband couldn't sleep with the television set going full blast.

According to his lawyer, he put his foot through the 21-inch screen and a divorce ensued.

A marriage counselor cited television as a major factor in marital discord.

"Sometimes it's the wife who is at fault," she said. "She neglects her household duties to watch daytime TV."

"But often it's the husband who comes home from work, plops down in front of the set and communicates with his wife only in monosyllables."

Television sets figure frequently in divorce property settlements, one attorney reported.

"Husband and wife may agree on disposing of the furniture, the family silver and stocks and bonds," he said, "but they'll fight a knockdown, drag-out battle over the TV."

Christians In India Brought Together In New Unity During Billy Graham Tour

By GEORGE BURNHAM
Chattanooga News-Free Press Staff Writer

CALCUTTA, India — What has been accomplished during Billy Graham's three week tour of India, a vital nation in hopes for world peace?

There are an estimated 20,000 more Christians who were not here this time last month and Christian belief is directly opposed to Communism, now a strong force in India.

The Christian church of India, which numbers some 10,000,000 members, has been brought together in unity never before known. All Protestant denominations, under the leadership of Indians, are working together to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ instead of splitting theological hairs.

Nominal Christians, the kind who go to church on Sunday and then forget about God the rest of the week, have been revived. Thousands are now living for Christ seven days a week by reading their Bibles, spending time in prayer, witnessing and being faithful in church.

Ambassador of Good Will

Over half a million people of India have listened with rapt attention to Billy Graham, described by many statesmen and newspapermen as America's greatest ambassador of good will. Billy Graham has made friends for America that could never have been gained by political influence and lend-lease dollars. He has left an impact of sincerity and straight-from-the-shoulder talk on rice field workers, textile workers, laborers, professional men and government officials. He talked for 30 minutes with Prime Minister Nehru.

A unique impact has been made on newspapermen of India. Like newsmen everywhere, writers of India are hard to impress. Practically every press conference ended in a theological discussion. Men asked questions about the Bible instead of Senator McCarthy.

A writer stated in the newspaper Amrita Bazar Patrika:

"Billy Graham proved in New Delhi that indeed he is a phenomenon. He was addressing blasé capital journalists who had turned out as numerous as in the case of Mr. Khrushchev. A Russian journalist was among them. He was facing an audience proud not only of Hinduism but also convinced of the superiority of Hinduism in that it is not a missionary religion and does not proselytize. He was facing people convinced that Christian missionaries were outsiders of imperialism in India and that they are still creating trouble in Assam. He was talking to pressmen who by and large were annoyed by the Portuguese slogan that Christianity is in danger if Goa goes to India and yet Billy Graham came out with flying colors through eloquence and fascinating personality, through tact and sincerity.

"The press conference was something of a journalistic experience, speaking highly of interview and interviewers. With a Bible in hand he made tall claims in the most language and talked about the whole world having the breath of God at present and there were no sneers or jeers. Indeed there were cheers."

Billy's final day in India was spent in Calcutta where he faced a crowd of over 10,000 and recorded 1,000 decisions. It was the largest religious gathering in Calcutta's turbulent history. Billy was introduced by the Most Rev. Abindra Nath Mukerji, Archbishop of India, Pakistan, Burma and Ceylon. In the Far East his rank is equal to the Archbishop of Canterbury.

New Look in Pastel Gloves for Spring

Pretty accents for spring fashions are these French glove imports. Shorty gloves in fabric (upper left) have geometric inserts of imported lace. These are by Gant Madeleine. Classic shorty by Kislav (upper right) is in creamy lace, has been extended to cover the wrist bone. This glove is washable. Lace gloves from this same designer are scalloped at the wrist bone (lower left) and glittering with brilliant. Spring scallops from Gant Madeleine (lower right) are fabric gloves with slim fingers and a sleek look. They'll keep both color and shape through endless washings.
